Section 1 - Introduction

Tuption Hall is aware that children and young people are growing up in an increasingly complex world and living their lives seamlessly on and offline. This presents many positive and exciting opportunities, but also challenges and risks. In this environment, children and young people need to know how to be safe and healthy, and how to manage their academic, personal and social lives in a positive way.

As part of the students' education at Tuption Hall, we teach a comprehensive Personal, Social, Health and Economic (PSHE) education programme through tutor groups, called Character. Character is the subject that gives young people the knowledge, understanding, attitudes and practical skills to live safe, healthy, productive lives and meet their full potential.

From Spring 2021, we also have a mandatory requirement to teach Relationships, Sex and Health Education (RSHE). Much of what is included in the new RSHE requirements is already covered as part of our current PSHE provision, however the provision and policy is being updated based on the new requirements.

Section 2 - The aims of Relationships, Sex and Health Education

The aim of this policy is to communicate to staff, governors, parents/carers, visitors and students the manner in which RSHE will be delivered and supported at Tuption Hall School.

In consultation with staff, parents, carers and pupils, the policy will be reviewed each year and, alongside local health data, we will contextualise how, what and why we deliver certain topics and themes.

The aim of RSHE is to give students the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds, not just intimate relationships. It should enable them to know what a healthy relationship looks like and what makes a good friend, a good colleague and a successful marriage, civil partnership or other type of committed relationship. It should also cover contraception, developing intimate relationships and resisting pressure to have sex (and not applying pressure). It should teach what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour in relationships. This will help students understand the positive effects that good relationships have on their mental wellbeing, identify when relationships are not right and understand how such situations can be managed.

Our RSHE policy will provide clear progression from what is taught in primary in Relationships, Health Education (RHE). We will build on the foundation of RHE and, as students grow up, at the appropriate time, extend teaching to include intimate relationships. Alongside being taught intimate relationships, students will also be taught about family relationships, friendships and other kinds of relationships that are an equally important part of becoming a successful and happy adult.

Teaching of RSHE at Tupton Hall will enable students:

- to distinguish between content and experiences that exemplify healthy relationships and those that are distorted or harmful;
- to understand the benefits of healthy relationships to their mental wellbeing and self-respect and to understand that unhealthy relationships can have a lasting, negative impact on mental wellbeing;
- to believe they can achieve goals and that in order to achieve those goals they must stick at the tasks despite the challenges they may face;
- to be taught the facts and the law about sex, sexuality, sexual health and gender identity in an age-appropriate and inclusive way;
- to be taught the fundamentals of the Equality Act and the protected characteristics and why we don't discriminate against someone on the grounds of any of these characteristics: age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion/belief, sex (gender) and sexual orientation.
- to recognise when relationships (including family relationships) are unhealthy or abusive (including the unacceptability of neglect, emotional, sexual and physical abuse and violence including honour-based violence and forced marriage) and strategies to manage this or access support for themselves or others at risk;
- to recognise risks, harmful content and contact, and how and when to report issues to keep them safe online and offline;
- to, within the law, be well equipped to make decisions for themselves about how to live their own lives in the future, whilst respecting the right of others to make their own decisions and hold their own beliefs;
- to be prepared for the changes that occur to their bodies, minds and emotions as a consequence of growth from childhood to adulthood.

Section 3 - Links with other policies

This policy should be read in conjunction with the following policies:

- Safeguarding Policy
- Anti-Bullying Policy
- E-Safety Policy
- Equality Information

Section 4 - What is effective Relationships, Sex and Health Education?

It is lifelong learning about physical, moral and emotional development. It is about the understanding of the importance of a stable and loving relationship. It is also about the teaching of sex, sexuality, and sexual health as well as preparing students at school for opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life. It is not about the promotion of sexual orientation or sexual activity – this would be inappropriate teaching. Our curriculum is also designed to support children growing up in an increasingly complex and digital world. Whilst the internet is an overwhelmingly positive development in our lives, it does present significant challenges, particularly for young people. The dominance of social media, the prevalence of cyberbullying and the risk that children learn about relationships from untrustworthy sources – we aim to support children to make the right decisions and keep themselves safe and happy.

4.1 Attitudes and values

Students are taught to examine the value of family life, marriage and civil partnerships, and stable and loving relationships for the nurture of children. They are also encouraged to explore and consider moral dilemmas. RSHE can also help pupils to develop a positive self-image and high self-esteem, responsibility and the ability to make informed decisions.

4.2 Personal and social skills

RSHE encourages students to manage emotions and relationships confidently and sensitively whilst developing self-respect and empathy for others. Students are taught to make choices based on an understanding of difference, with an absence of prejudice and learning how to recognise and avoid exploitation and abuse. It also provides opportunities to develop communication skills and assertiveness within a range of different situations.

4.3 Knowledge and understanding

RSHE focuses on understanding physical development at appropriate stages. The students will explore: human sexuality, reproduction, sexual health, emotions and relationships. Students will also be provided with information on contraception and the range of local and national sexual health advice support services. Students will look at the reasons for delaying sexual activity, the benefits to be gained from such delay and the avoidance of unplanned pregnancy.

This will provide an objective and balanced view of sexual matters, correcting any misconceptions and misinformation students may have gained.

Section 5 - Delivery of RSHE at Tupton Hall School

RSHE will be set in the context of a wider whole-school approach to supporting pupils to be safe, happy and prepared for life beyond school. The curriculum on relationships, sex and health will complement and be supported by the School's wider policies on behaviour, inclusion, respect for equality and diversity, anti-bullying and safeguarding. RSHE will sit within the context of the Trust and School's broader ethos and approach to developing pupils socially, morally, spiritually and culturally; and its pastoral care system.

The RSHE curriculum will be predominantly taught through the twice weekly Character challenge time programme, providing a safe environment to explore these topics, as well as an Impact Day in the Summer term, which is year based. Additionally, we may use outside agencies to provide specialist, age specific support to deliver some of the RSHE content. Furthermore, we recognise that RSHE is not an isolated subject and many other subjects provide a focus for exploring some elements of RSHE, for example: Science, Food Technology, PE and Philosophy, Religion and Ethics.

When studying RSHE, the School recognises the need to create a supportive and secure atmosphere where students can develop the confidence needed to talk, listen and think about sex, health and relationships. In order to do this, teachers will:

- Establish ground rules with students
- Emphasise the importance of mutual respect
- Encourage reflection
- Make students aware of the relevant people to approach in the Academy.

At Tupton Hall all tutors will be involved in delivering the RSHE curriculum outlined in section 8 of this policy. The lead teachers (Mrs Elliott and Mrs Robbins-Emery) for PSHE and RSHE will work closely with colleagues to ensure resources used to teach the curriculum are relevant, accessible and of a high standard. Effective teaching will ensure that core knowledge is broken down into topics of manageable size and communicated clearly to pupils, in a carefully sequenced way, within a planned programme of lessons.

Section 6 - Pupils with special education needs and disabilities (SEND)

Relationships, Sex and Health Education (RSHE) will be accessible for all pupils. High quality teaching is differentiated and personalised, this is the starting point to ensure accessibility for all pupils. The School will also be mindful of the preparing for adulthood outcomes as set out in the SEND code of practice, when preparing these subjects for pupils with SEND. We are aware that some pupils are more vulnerable to exploitation, bullying and other issues due to the nature of their SEND. RSHE can also be a priority for some pupils, for example some with Social, Emotional and Mental Health Needs or learning disabilities. For some pupils there may be a need to tailor content and teaching to meeting the specific needs of children at different development stages.

Section 7 - Roles and Responsibilities

6.1 The Trust

Monitor the implementation of the policy across all Academies within the Trust.

6.2 The Governors

That the Quality of provision is subject to regular and effective self-evaluation and that the subject is well led, planned and effectively managed.

6.3 Head Teacher

The Head Teacher is responsible for ensuring that RSHE is taught consistently across the school and for managing requests to withdraw students from the non-statutory/non-science components of RSHE.

6.4 Staff

All staff will ensure that:

- They will attend all training and access support offered through the delivery of key topics.
- Ground rules are negotiated with the group before embarking on lessons of a sensitive nature so that both the staff and pupils can work together in a supportive atmosphere in which all members can speak with confidence and without fear of embarrassment, anxiety or breach of confidentiality;
- All students are offered the opportunity to explore ideas, situations and feelings in an atmosphere of confidence and support;
- All points of view they may express during the course of teaching RSHE are unbiased
- The teaching of RSHE is delivered in ways that are accessible to all pupils with SEND;
- The emphasis of teaching RSHE will always be the importance and understanding of personal relationships and the right of the individual to make informed choices;
- Issues of stereotyping, sexual equality, harassment, rights and legislation underpin the teaching of RSHE;
- Where appropriate they direct pupils to seek advice and support from an appropriate agency or individual such as menstrual wellbeing, how to access period products and reducing stigma around periods. It is inappropriate for staff to give students personal advice on matters such as contraception, however students are signposted to the safeguarding team should they need personal advice.
- Where a student has embarked on a course of action likely to place them at risk, the member of staff will ensure that the student is aware of the implications of their behaviour. The member of staff should refer any potential concerns to the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

6.5 Parents/carers

The Trust acknowledge the key role that parents/carers play in the development of their children's understanding about relationships. Parents are the first educators of their children. They have the most significant influence in enabling their children to grow and mature and to form healthy relationships.

All Parents/Carers will be:

- Given every opportunity to understand the purpose and content of Relationships Education and RSHE;
- Encouraged to participate in the development of Relationships Education and RSHE;
- Able to discuss any concerns directly with the Academy.

Through the school's website, parents will be able to view the curriculum and see which topics are covered each term.

All Parents/Carers can view:

- A guide to the Life Skills and Wellbeing topics, which include RSHE
- Topics covered and when through the year
- Support guides and access links to websites or local places linked to current topics.

Section 8 - Parental right to withdrawal from RSHE

Parents have the right to request that their child be withdrawn only from some or all of sex education delivered as part of statutory RSHE. The School, before granting any such request, will require the Head Teacher to discuss the request with the parent and, as appropriate, with the child to ensure that their wishes are understood and to clarify the nature and purpose of the curriculum. Following the discussions, except in exceptional circumstances, the School will respect the parents' request to withdraw their child, up to and until three terms before the child turns 16. After that point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than be withdrawn, the school should make arrangements to provide the child with sex education during one of those terms. The head teacher will ensure that where a pupil is excused from sex education, the pupil will receive appropriate, purposeful education during the period of withdrawal. *There is no right to withdraw from the National Curriculum. All requests should be made to the Assistant Head; Mrs Holland upon which a record will be kept of all enquiries.

*It is important to note that where sexual education is taught in Science, there is no right to withdraw your child from this subject.

Section 9 - Working with external agencies

We are aware that working with external partners will enhance the delivery of RSHE and will support staff to bring in specialist knowledge and implement different ways of engaging with young people. Where external agencies are used, we will check the credentials of the visiting organisation and any visitors linked to the agency. We will also ensure that the teaching delivered by the visitor fits with the planned programme and the published policy. We will work with external agencies to ensure that the content delivered is age-appropriate and accessible for all pupils. Any materials that are used as part of the delivery must be approved by the School in advance of the session. The School will ensure that the visitor is aware of aspects of confidentiality and understands how safeguarding reports should be dealt with in line with the School's Safeguarding Policy.

Section 10 - Safeguarding, reports of abuse and confidentiality

The Trust recognises that at the heart of RSHE, the focus is on keeping children safe, and acknowledges the significant role the School have in preventative education. In our curriculum we will allow children an open forum to discuss potentially sensitive issues. Such discussions can lead to increased safeguarding reports. Children will be made aware of the processes to enable them to raise their concerns or make a report and how any report will be handled. This will also include processes when they have a concern about a peer or friend. All staff are aware of what to do if a child tells them that they are being abused or neglected. Staff are also aware of the need to manage the requirement to maintain an appropriate level of confidentiality. This means only involving those that need to be involved, such as the Designated Safeguarding Lead. A member of staff will never promise a child that they will not tell anyone about a report of abuse, as this is not in the best interests of the child. The involvement of the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead) will ensure that trusted, high quality local resources are engaged, links to the police and other agencies are utilised and the knowledge of the any particular local issues it may be appropriate to address in lessons.

Section 11 - Procedure for Monitoring and evaluating RSHE

The policy and its implementation will be reviewed every 12 months. The School's RSHE link governor is Kathy Rouse. RSHE will be monitored by the Assistant Head Teacher, Mrs Rachael Holland, and the Deputy Heads of House, whose responsibility is to:

- Ensure that RSHE is covered in the schemes of work for PSHE;
- Monitor the use of teaching and learning styles;
- Monitor the use of teaching materials;

- Evaluate the effectiveness of the RSHE programme;
- Ensure the content is age appropriate.

This will be achieved via a variety of methods, such as through staff feedback, pupil surveys, folder scrutiny, learning walks and observations.

Section 12 – RSHE curriculum content
